

The image displays a bass guitar tablature for the song 'Heavenly Flow' by Men I Trust. The notation is organized into measures, with measure numbers 40 through 56 indicated at the start of each line. The tablature uses a six-string bass guitar layout, with fret numbers (9, 12, 14, 7, 8, 10, 15, 17, 3, 4) written on the strings. Slurs and accents are used to indicate specific phrasing and dynamics. Below each measure, there are vertical bar lines and horizontal lines representing the fretboard, which serve as a visual guide for the player's hand position. Measure 50 contains a double bar line and a fermata symbol, indicating a pause in the music. Measure 56 shows a single fret (1) on the first string, suggesting the beginning of a new section or a specific technique.